SUBJECT: Parent Involvement Program/DROPOUT PREVENTION

Parent Involvement and Beyond Consulting is pleased to announce a variety of new and exciting Parents Workshops and Trainings for this academic year.

The Parent Involvement Program/DROPOUT PREVENTION is designed to build the capacity of parents to better work with their children, teachers and schools by providing them with knowledge, skills, tools and practical strategies and techniques that are essential in establishing a trusting and supporting relationship. The program reinforces the importance of the collaborative partnership between schools, families and communities in ensuring the academic and social success of all children and families.

All parent workshops and trainings are research based and are designed specifically to help parents understand their vital role in their children's academic success and in life. We focus on real-world strategies using classroom practices so that parents can start working immediately on a plan of action with their children at home. We also, develop an integrated approach, the home-school relationship so that schools support parents and parents support schools to work on common goals.

For further information on workshops and/or trainings, please contact us at the above numbers.

Thank you in advance for your interest and support in our program!

Sincerely,

PARENT INVOLVEMENT AND BEYOND CONSULTING
